It chanced, one day, he wandered through a wood,
Dark and forbidding, like his own ill-mood,
When suddenly, between the tangled boughs,
He saw a hoars temple, ages old,
Where carth's first children went to may their vows.
Thick ivy clong, in many a sombre fold,
Arouno its councies, and its slient door.
Through which the winds had passed for centuries.
Ben Sadi trod its damp, unechoing floor.
And, fearing wizard-work, was ill at ease;
But looking romad, a little door he spied,
Standing had open, at the farther side,
And just above the door these words were writ:

Walkace, Esq., we will sell at auction, on the premises, on FRIDAY the 14th day of August, at 4½ o'clock P. M., the very productive FARM situated as above described, called "WINDSOR." There are three quarries on this place of superior granite immediately on the canal, and can be worked very cheaply, being only four miles from Richmond by the canal, having the advantage of the greater cheapness of water over railroad transportation. There is also a vein of iron ore twelve feet thick, which has been found by analysis to contain 35 per cent. of iron. thick, which has been found by analysis to contain 35 per cent. of iron.

This property may be put down as follows: Seventy acres high farming laud, well improved; twenty acres grantle quarries, and sixty acres of rich James river low grounds. The low grounds have ample water-power, and will ultimately be used as sites for manufacturing. The uplands will no doubt in a few years be in demand for division into suburban residences or small trucking farms.

The improvements are a choice orchard of select fruit—peach, &c., small brick dwelling, carriagehouse, ice-house, large barn, stable, corn-crib; in fact, all the farm-buildings necessary for a large farm. The farm is well watered and healthy, the fact, all the farm-intending necessary for a farm. The farm is well watered and healthy, the situation is elevated, and abounds in shade trees. The property will be shown by the manager on the farm, Mr. Childress. For better description apply to Captain Wallace, living near, or to Grubbs & Williams, Auctioneers.
